East Side Players Third Summer School

The East Side Player's third Summer School will take place from 9th – 20th August at St. Barnabas Church and Christian Centre, Kingfisher Drive, from 9:30-12:30 weekday mornings.

Following last year's successful production of "Long Way Home" the children will work on a version of the story of Jonah, "Way Down Deep", written by Steffi Huxley.

During the fortnight children will also create and paint the props used during the play.

The club will culminate with a performance of "Way Down Deep" at St Barnabas Church on 20th August at 6:30.

The club is open to children aged between 5 and 11 years old and will cost £15 for the fortnight (£10 for siblings).

(East Side Players is in the process of affiliating to Urban Saints, and all helpers have enhanced CRB checks.)
